Franks with Mrs. Carl Jones, Mrs. Thomas Cannon, and Mrs. John Wilson, Jr., as co-hostesses. Mrs. Howard Byers will lead the program entitled, "Jesus' Ministry to the Village People." She will be assisted by Mesdames Denver Dickinson, Wayne Russell, LaGrone Williams, and Virgil Keelley. Mrs. Jack Gardner will give the devotional and Mrs. Harrell Hall will sing. A full attendance is urged.

Green Thumb Garden Club Meets at Paisley

The Green Thumb Garden Club of Paisley School met September 23 with its leader, Mrs. J. W. Perkins.

Patsy Beard, president, called the meeting to order after which the group repeated the club creed followed by the singing of the songs "Mockingbird Hill" and "Arkansas Traveler."

It was decided that the club project for the year would be a "Study of Trees." A short field trip was taken during which the school trees were observed and classified.

Mrs. Whitlow Hostess to Annie Hoover Circle
The Annie Hoover Circle of the First Baptist Church met Monday afternoon, September 21, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. S. A. Whitlow, leader.

After the opening prayer, the monthly business session was held. Mrs. A. D. Brannan taught the second chapter of the mission study book "Sacrifice and Song." Refreshments were served to the ten members present during the social hour.

Girl Scout Troop 3 Meets September 23

Girl Scout Troop 3 met September 23 at the Little House under the leadership of Mrs. Jim Cole with Brenda Hanna as hostess.

After a short business session, the girls worked on badge sash. Norma Lou Hughes will be hostess at the next meeting.

Lilac Garden Club Meets With Mrs. Porterfield
The Lilac Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Porterfield with Mrs. H. B. Whitworth as co-hostess.

It was the first meeting of the year and the president, Mrs. Kenneth Ambrose, named committee heads and thanked the yearbook committee for its splendid work. Mrs. Camp, Mrs. Mike Kelly, Mrs. Kenneth Ambrose were named to a committee to help decorate the float.

Mrs. Graydon Anthony gave an interesting report on the State Garden Clubs convention held last June in Conway.

The flower show schedule was discussed in detail and arrangements were assigned to Mrs. Mildred McPherson.

A salad plate was served to 14 members and one guest, Mrs. Robert Nelson of Marion, Illinois.

Notice

Band mothers are asking that cakes and pies be donated for the Band Mothers Stand at Third District Livestock Show in Fair Park next week. Anyone wishing to donate call Mrs. Joe Rogers, 7-2577.

Coming and Going

Columbus
A discussion on cleaning and refinishing old furniture was led by Lorraine Blackwood, Home Demonstration Agent, when the Columbus Home Demonstration club held its regular meeting Monday, September 21, in the home of Mrs. B. C. Webb.

Mrs. Webb, president, presided during the business meeting. The devotional, taken from John 14:1-13, was read by Mrs. J. P. Webb, Jr. Roll call was answered with "A home-making practice which saves money." Mrs. Leo Evans gave a report on care of poultry. Mrs. J. E. Delaney gave a report on farm safety.

Plans were made for the club to have an exhibit at the Third District Livestock Show September 28 through October 3. Plans were also made for the club to sponsor a picnic at the Columbus school auditorium on Friday night, September 25.

Mrs. T. M. McCorkel directed the recreation, with Mrs. Billy

Two-Time Winner Vies For Bond

That's a $1000 gleam in the eyes of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rose, at right, as they admire a king-size U. S. Government Savings Bond displayed by models Marjane Osgood and Wilma Ware. And it's there because store manager Rose would like to be among 50 Kroger managers who will be awarded $1,000 bonds as top prizes for outstanding jobs during the retail food firm's 71st annual fall sales event beginning September 21. Rose, a previous two-time winner in the annual employee contest, hopes to become the first three-time winner among 1,350 Kroger store managers this year. Bonds and merchandise awards will also go to other employees in winning stores throughout the company's 19-state area.

and her cookstove, refrigerator, vacuum cleaner or hair dryer. She never thinks of a machine as having a mind of its own, and it had better not act as if it did. She has enough mind for both of them, and a machine had better obey her, if it knows what is good for it. She is not going to put up with any mental whims.

A man never trades in an old motor car without silently saying, "goodbye, old pal, goodbye." He has a twinge of conscience, and feels like a cowboy who sells his old horse to a dog food cannery. He knows he is turning his back on one who has served him long and well.

But what housewife, on getting a new refrigerator, ever greets her arms lovingly around the old one, and wept, "At revoir, my darling. There'll never be another refrigerator with trays like yours." Machines are not really as dumb as they look. They know the difference in the way men and women feel toward them.

A machine realizes that if it isn't

Sweet Home

Sweet Home Demonstration club met Friday afternoon, September 18, in the home of Mrs. W. T. Yarberry with 12 members and Mrs. Blackwood present. The Women's Creed was repeated. Devotional, John 14:1-13, was given by Mrs. Doris Cannon and prayer led by Mrs. S. E. Lee.

Plans were made to quilt the friendship quilt the club had made. Fifty boxes of Christmas cards were distributed among the members to be sold.

In the absence of the home management leader, Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, Home Demonstration Agent, was in charge of the program and gave a very interesting talk on refinishing furniture, how to make dust cloths, and different kinds of wood stains.

Refreshments were served. The club adjourned to meet at the church Friday, October 16.

up to par all it has to do is break or complain or decline to do its job, and a man will sympathetically take it apart and do his best to make it well again. But it doesn't take a machine with much sense to learn that won't do at all with a woman.

Women are always bragging about how they can fix machines by jiggling them. They don't really fix them. When a woman goes over and jiggles a balky machine, it knows she is threatening. "You start working right now, you silly clump of metal, or out of this warm house you go right into a junkpile."

The machine, whatever is wrong with it, promptly starts working again -- but only out of pure fear. It is running on sheer nerves, overwhelmed by a dominant feminine personality.

The sick machine goes on chugging frantically until it collapses, and the woman tells her husband, "That old thing is worn out. I'll have to have a new one."

But if you really gave the poor faithful departed machine an honest post-mortem it would have to be this: "Nervous breakdown a one-handed campaign to find out about her only child.

She began getting in touch with each returning Arkansas POW to see if they knew of her son.

Mrs. Green said then that she knew the job would take time, but added:

"I want to get in contact with all the boys who were released. Maybe one of them will know about my boy."

She found out what happened to her son today from the Communist.

MORRISON, 3 - An Arkansas farm mother today refused to believe that her son had chosen to stay with the Communists in Korea, and told her son:

"You tell that boy that his mother said for him to come on home."

Mrs. Mattie German, who lives on a farm outside of Plumerville, Ark., said she didn't believe that 25-year-old Cpl. William C. White had joined Communism.

"They're forcing my boy to stay over there," she said.

Mrs. German said that Cpl. White "never gave me no trouble."

She said it had been three months since she had received a letter from her son, and the last one then he wanted to come home.

Mrs. German said White never mentioned any political views in his letters.

"One time," she added, "he told me he wished President Eisenhower would end the war so he could get back over here."

The Korean woman said she had three other children, including another son, 17.

DOROTHY DIX

Good Looks vs. Education

Dear Miss Dix: I am 24 years of age. I quit school in the eighth grade. I looked much older than I was then. Since I frequently had been told I was attractive, and was in a hurry to get a husband, I wanted a modeling career. My attempts to get work in that line went unsatisfactory. I tried a variety of other jobs. Now, of course, I realize how badly I was misled. I am by lack of education. My chief trouble, I think, is that I've been getting advice from too many people and usually the wrong ones. I like people and enjoy working in a busy place. Have you any suggestions for me?

ANSWER: You certainly are going to find your brick education made of straw for many jobs, but the straw is anything but a support. There's no necessity, either, for you to work until you have enough money to continue your schooling. You can take up where you left off on an expense, or for a small fee, if you can afford it, to get in touch with your local board of education. Once you find out what night classes are open, get your education. You have made the same mistake.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 21 and in love with a man twice my age. We've known each other three years. We are absolutely sure of our love and compatibility. My mother likes him and agrees to our marriage, but she claims that the difference in age precludes a big future. She is afraid there will be too much advice coming in from all sides. I am really over my marriage.

ANSWER: If people are going to tell you, and undoubtedly they will, that you have a big or small wedding won't influence them one bit. If you want a big wedding, go ahead and have it; in fact, the more proudly you present your marriage, the less criticism you'll incur.

DEAR MISS DIX: Harold and I have been corresponding for almost two years, though we never met until a few months ago. We are early other school, since he is a graduate from one. He says he loves me and I know I love him, though I haven't told him yet. He's busy at school and work, now, so I don't hear from him more than once a week. If the week passes without a letter, I get very worried. Do you think if I told him I love him it would make any difference? I'm 17 and he's 21. ADDIE T.

ANSWER: Your relationship with the young man seems rather unstable. I think it would be better for you both to keep your correspondence in a friendly, rather than a sentimental, level for the time being. He is so greatly preoccupied with the business of making a living and acquiring an education that it would be better for him to shelve the question of marriage for a time. You are too young to become permanently involved, especially with a youth you don't really know well.

Texas Will Stay With Team Plan

DALLAS (AP) — While some other Southwest Conference grid squads looked for a divisional reserve strength, Coach Ed Price of Texas said today he would stick to a team substitution plan.

Price had been hearing complaints about his substitutions after Texas' 20-7 loss last week to Louisiana State. But as he got his squad ready for Saturday's game with Villanova, he said, "we are banking on having three teams ready to go."

Rice, 20-10 victor over Florida, had four players sidelined as the squad tapered off training this week. Trainer Eddie Wojewicki said, however, that all hands should be ready for the Oct. 3 tussle with Cornell.

Baylor coaches strove to develop second and third-stringers to give the Bears a greater supply of reserves against Miami Oct. 2.

At College Station, Coach Ray George of Texas A&M sought ends to replace injured wingman Don Robbins and Eric Miller. The Aggies, pepped up by their 7-6 triumph over Kentucky, meet the Football forecasters are in the same boat with the coaches and the fans at this time of year. They haven't seen the teams under enough competitive fire to tell much about them; or they haven't seen them at all.

Many of the teams make their 1953 debuts this week, so there's a lot of guesswork along with some reasoning in three predictions:

Oklahoma AM over Arkansas—In their fourth season under him, the Aggies are well scheduled in J. B. Whitworth's system and are boasting openly that their material

University of Houston Saturday. Southern Methodist, set to open its season Oct. 3 against Georgia Tech at Atlanta, played today for a game scrimmage tomorrow.

The Mustangs have been emphasizing defense.

Coach Abe Martin's Texas Christian Horned Frogs showed improvement in passing from the Split T yesterday and today were hard at work on the quick-opening thrusts of the halfbacks. TCU, idle this week, meets Arkansas a week from Saturday.

At Fayetteville, the Arkansas Razorbacks practiced under the lights last night in preparation for their season opener against Oklahoma A&M. The Hogs meet the Aggies in Little Rock Saturday night. Coach Bowden Wyatt said the scrimmage was devoted mainly to defense against Cowboy plays.

Dallas Takes First Game of Playoff

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas' hammering Eagles had the Nashville Vols one down today in the first game of the baseball championship playoff.

The Eagles got to hits while the Howie Anderson held the Vols to four to win the opening game of the Dixie Series, 7-1.

The second game tonight will see Nashville depending on Pete Medica, a lefthander who has a season record of 9-5, while Dallas will use its ace, righthander Warren McLeod. McLeod had a 10-4 record for the season.

Tomorrow the clubs travel to Nashville to resume the series Saturday night.

Dallas battered three Vols pitchers as Willie Brown scored a 26th home run to give Dallas a 7-1 lead in the seventh.

Diek Lohy had started for Nashville but was pounded for seven hits and five runs in a 4-1 loss.

is the best in many means. They also already have a victory tucked away. The Razorbacks, on the other hand, will be making their first appearance under Bowden Wyatt and his single wing. They are then material-wise and it's too soon to say how much an apparently good split will do for them. It could be very close, as it was last year, when Arkansas won 22-20, and really wouldn't be an upset either way.

Southern State over Ozarks—The Muleriders have "it" again.

Henderson over Austin Peay—Mostly a guess. The Reddies are loaded. Information on the Tennessee team is scarce.

Arkansas Tech over Eastern Oklahoma A&M—Riding with Tech's speed against an unknown quality.

Louisiana College over State Teachers—The Tutors look good on paper but haven't found the winning combination yet.

Texas over Villanova—Can't expect the Longhorns to lose two inter-sectional scraps in a row. Besides, they have everything in their favor this time, including the Austin heat.

Houston over Texas AM—The Cougars are supposed to be stronger than they were last year, when they really mauled Arkansas.

In the high school circle, it looks like —

El Dorado over Hope, Fort Smith over Pine Bluff, Texarkana over Hot Springs, Little Rock over Isidore, Little Rock over Camden, Fayetteville over Subiaco, Springdale over Harrison, Rogers over Van Buren, St. Anne's of Fort Smith over Berryville, Forrest City over Brinkley, Elytheville over Frazer, Tenn.

Clarkdale, Miss., over Jonesboro, Smackover over Benton, Russellville over Conway, Malvern over Nashville, Bearden over Fordyce, Siloam Springs over Bentonville, Alma over Hartford, Searey over Bald Knob, Paragould over Batesville, McCrory over Beebe, Corning over Pocahontas, Osceola over West Memphis.

Helena over Trumann, Mena over Ashdown, Ozark over Booneville, Stuttgart over Catholic High, DeWitt over England, Wynne over Parkin, DeQueen over Fairview, Dermott over Strong, Warren over Crossett, Eudora over Dumas, Hamburg over McGehee, Monticello over Star City, Lake Village over Rison.

Does that tell-tale look on your face say change of life?

A great many women suffer "change of life" after forty. They live easily, have "nerves", sleep poorly, are hard to live with, their eyes and face get that "change" look.

Cardui has helped thousands of women to lose that "change" look. Cardui acts to (1) improve appetite, (2) thus build strength and resistance, (3) ease tension and nervousness—sleep better. Let Cardui help you feel better, look better and be your normal, cheerful self again. Get Cardui today. (Say "Cardui-please").

Visiting Around Arkansas

BY JOE MARSH

SEPTEMBER... "Fair" Weather

It's county fair time again. Throughout Arkansas men and women, boys and girls are gathering their finest produce and shipping up their finest livestock to exhibit them before their urban friends and to compete with each other.

Rural enterprise and accomplishment will be on parade this month, building up for the statewide Stock Show in October. These county and district fairs and stockshows not only show off the best in produce and stock, but the best in American citizenship. The friendly, but keen competition among friends and neighbors is always refreshing to me. Not all of them can take home a ribbon, but they'll be right in there trying again next year. That's the kind of stuff our folks are made of.

And like the county fair is typical of our American scene, so are good beer and wine, the nation's beverages of moderation. The brewers of America use the finest of farm products in the manufacture of their wares. And like the rural people of our nation who like to exhibit their handwork in the best possible places, the brewers like to have their products sold in clean, wholesome surroundings.

Mrs. J. E. McWilliams, program chairman, led a discussion on "Housekeeping Made Easy" when the Union Home Demonstration club met September 14 in the clubroom at the Palmers School. Mrs. McWilliams gave the following instructions for cleaning and polishing furniture to restore its beauty:

One tablespoon turpentine, one-half cup kerosene, one-half cup of kerosene, feeds, and polish the wood, and 1 quart of hot water. Mix the ingredients well, keep fat in a double boiler while using. Rub on with a cloth wet with the solution, polish with a dry cloth. Use a polish or wax after cleaning.

Mrs. Stella Adams, president, led a discussion on a booth for the Third District Livestock Show. The vocational was given by the hostess, Mrs. Monroe Kent. The surprise package was won by Mrs. Oscar Under and the same prize was won by Mrs. Beulah Jones. Refreshments were served to 17 members.

Baltimore Group Seeks to Buy Browns

BAITMORE (AP) — A group of wealthy Baltimoreans was all set today to plunk out $1,115,000 for working control of the St. Louis Browns if American League owners okay the transfer.

Meanwhile, a group of St. Louisans announced last-ditch plans to fight the transfer, saying they would fly to New York to seek a hearing before league owners at the special meeting Sunday.

The developments came as a time for decision passed on Bill Veeck's second attempt to move his Browns from St. Louis. The league turned down his request to come to Baltimore last spring by a 5-2 vote.

Asks Comparison of Printing Prices

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two state representatives want the Joint Legislative Audit Committee to see how prices in state printing supply contracts compare with competitive market prices.

The committee said yesterday it will consider at its Oct. 15 meeting the request by Reps. J. A. (Donley) Womack of Ouachita County and Hayne O. Hollis of Calhoun County.

The cost of printing and stationery supplies under present state contracts has drawn criticism from state department and agency heads.

The contract prices were set in January, 1951, by Secretary of State C. G. Hall with the approval of the governor, auditor and treasurer.

The 1953 Fiscal Code provisions giving the state finance director the authority to let printing contracts were recently ruled unconstitutional by Pulaski Chancellor Guy E. Williams.

An appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court is expected.

Bankers to Pull for Freer Trade

BY FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 6,000 bankers met today apparently in a mood to pump for freer trade and endorse key fiscal policies of the Eisenhower administration.

The American Bankers Assn. held the final meeting of its 78th annual convention. Resolutions cleared to the floor, and by tradition almost certain of adoption, would favor:

1. The United States "continuing to open its markets increasingly to foreign goods."

2. Federal reserve-treasury action under a "flexible monetary policy—including flexibility of bond prices and interest rates."

3. Balancing the federal budget as a step "essential to the maintenance of a strong and stable economy."

The bankers also scheduled a talk by W. Randolph Burgess, deputy to Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, on management of the 272 billion dollar federal debt.

Humphrey yesterday categorically promised the convention that tax cuts scheduled for Jan. 1-10 percent in personal income tax and abolition of the excess profits tax on corporations, would not be postponed despite "the real possibility of an atomic Pearl Harbor striking directly over our heads."

Additionally, it is a phrase declared that the recent stock market decline does not look to him like a disaster and that there is "nothing to shiver about" in the prospect of somewhat lower business activity, in some lines.

The bankers' proposed resolution on foreign trade said in part:

"We believe that the United States should live up to its international responsibilities as the world's greatest creditor and producing nation by continuing to open

Clothing Asked for East Germans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked the American people today to contribute winter clothing through private organizations for the people of Soviet-occupied East Germany.

The move follows up the President's earlier gift of food for the East Germans.

The White House made public an exchange of letters between Eisenhower and Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany.

Adenauer's letter, dated Aug. 30, appealed to the United States for warm clothing for the population of East Berlin and the remainder of East Germany.

Eisenhower replied in a letter dated yesterday that he would bring the Chancellor's appeal to the attention of the American people. "Knowing that they will contribute generously to the organizations which will undertake to provide such clothing and other required and related items."

No Evidence of Murder Found

MARION, Ark. (AP) — The Crittenden County grand jury says it did not find evidence of murder in the icebox suffocation deaths of another grand jury from re-investigating the case at some future date," he said.

The no bill decision in the case, officially labeled an accident, was returned yesterday.

J. A. Hallman, 34, father of the victims, said the jury decision "doesn't change my ideas a bit. I still say it was murder."

Prosecutor Charles Pantlow said the case was not considered closed but was "in abeyance."

"There is nothing to prevent another grand jury from re-investigating the case at some future date," he said.

Greenland Waste Poses Pilot Problem

Editor's Note: In the wastes of Northern Greenland, at the top of the world, U. S. airmen are developing a string of super-secret bases close to Russia's industrial heartland. A United Press correspondent has flown into the area for a first-hand look at what is going on. In the following dispatch, he describes some of the hazards that beset polar aviation.

By BENT JENSEN

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (UP) — An ice-encrusted airfield clinging to the rocky coast of Greenland poses a hair-raising landing problem for American pilots who ferry jet fighters to Allied forces in Europe.

"Operation High Flight" comes into force as soon as the pilots take off from this big base in Labrador for the flight to Narssarsuaq field in Greenland.

They must land at Narssarsuaq because they do not have enough fuel to go elsewhere. If trouble develops, they cannot bail out because they likely would be killed on the knife-edged rocks dotting the bordering black landscape.

The story of the risky hurdle that Narssarsuaq presents was told by Lt. Col. Francis S. Manda, Military Air Transport Service liaison officer for "High Flight."

Winds around the field often reach 150 knots (about 172 miles per hour). The fjord of Narssarsuaq is plagued by fog and low-flying clouds.

The runway is an aviation nightmare. It has an elevation of 10 feet at the approach end and 130 at the far end.

Steep crags rising on all sides of the field are a formidable obstacle if the flier has to make a second pass to get down. A 5,000-foot glacier towers only seven miles ahead of the runway's abrupt end in the ice.

Pilots approaching the field must stay at 8,000 feet and fly at exactly 160 knots for 13½ minutes. They must keep their jets in landing position, with wheels down.

The Goose Bay weather station checks and double-checks its meteorological data before the fighters are permitted to take off.

Businessmen Urged to Seek New Industry

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas businessmen were urged last night to attract new industries to the state as a buffer against a possible depression.

A few hours earlier it was announced that U. S. Rubber Co. will decide by Nov. 1 whether to build a large, new plant in Arkansas.

C. Hamilton Moses, Arkansas Power & Light Co. board chairman, told some 600 business leaders at an industrial conference here that national business signs and the Arkansas crop outlook were none too bright.

But he challenged the conference to stop brooding about hard times and get busy selling Arkansas to manufacturers.

"We challenge you to act on a big scale, to dream big dreams, to accomplish big deeds," said Moses, who spoke as president of the Arkansas Economic Council-State Chamber of Commerce.

He called for AEC-SCC offices at New York and Chicago; better promotion of tourist opportunities; selling Arkansas resources to cattlemen in the Texas drought area; and the appeal to manufacturers.

Gov. Cherry told the conference that the primary role of government in attracting new industries was providing "political stability."

"You must have a stable government in which people can have confidence," he said.

U. S., Britain to Throttle UN Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Britain and the United States, together again after their split over Indian attendance at the Korean political conference, laid plans today to throttle any more U. N. debate on the conference until after the parity is supposed to get underway.

The Allied strategy, reportedly supported by the other 14 U. N. members which sent troops to Korea, is to shove any discussion of Korea to last place in the agenda of the U. N.'s 60-nation Political Committee.

That would postpone further U. N. talk about Korea until well after the tentative Oct. 28 starting date for the peace conference.

Such a postponement would thwart Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky's plans, announced yesterday, to revive in the Political Committee his demands that the U. N. discuss Communist China's bid for India and other neutrals to attend the conference.

The fight over more Korean discussion is expected to hit the committee floor as soon as the members' statements of general policy are concluded. These statements are due to be wound up by the end of the week.

The United States trounced an identical Vishinsky demand for Korean debate yesterday in both the steering committee and the General Assembly. U. S. sources were reported confident they could win a third round also.

Poles Sentence Bishop as Spy

LONDON (UP) — Roman Catholic Bishop Czeslaw Kaczmarek was convicted of espionage for the United States today and sentenced to 12 years in prison.

The conviction and sentencing by a Communist military tribunal were announced by Communist Warsaw radio.

The Warsaw broadcast, monitored here, said one of Kaczmarek's aides, the Rev. Jan Danilewicz, was sentenced to 10 years in prison on the same charge.

Another priest, the Rev. Jozef Dombrowski, was given a nine-year prison sentence. Another, the Rev. Wladyslaw Widlak, was sent to prison for six years.

A nun, accused with the other four of "espionage, anti-state propaganda and diversionary activities," was given a five-year suspended sentence.

Under Polish law, the crimes charged carried a possible maximum penalty of death.

The five were accused of violating secrets of the congressional to obtain military, economic and other information allegedly requested by United States authorities and smuggled to Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, who, it was charged, acted as courier between the Vatican and Washington, D. C.

The story of the risky hurdle that Narssarsuaq presents was told by Lt. Col. Francis S. Manda, Military Air Transport Service liaison officer for "High Flight."

Winds around the field often reach 150 knots (about 172 miles per hour). The fjord of Narssarsuaq is plagued by fog and low-flying clouds.

Steep crags rising on all sides of the field are a formidable obstacle if the flier has to make a second pass to get down. A 5,000-foot glacier towers only seven miles ahead of the runway's abrupt end in the ice.

Texarkana Buries Man Second Time

TEXARKANA — The Miller County sheriff's office yesterday

closed the case of the buried man up alive. The body was re-buried in a pauper's grave yesterday.

The body of a man, killed in an Aug. 27 railroad yard accident, and buried as Van Lee Sullivan, to identify the body had failed and the case is closed."

Sullivan's relatives had identified the body and held funeral and burial services. The 46-year-old man, working at Waco, Tex., collapsed when told of the services.

Effectiveness of Polio Drug Unanswered

By DELOS SMITH
NEW YORK (AP) — The 1953 "polio season" took a sudden and premature nose-dive, and the long unanswered question today was what gamma globulin had to do with it.

More than 225,000 children in various parts of the country have received injections of the polio serum this year.

Because the "season" failed to develop into a record of near-record epidemic, as it had promised to do at its start, there will be at least 1,000,000 doses of gamma globulin "left over" at year's end.

The United Press, in an editorial, said the epidemic experts and found a preponderance of opinion that GQ had much to do with slowing and finally blunting the "rising curve" of polio cases in the nation.

All experts said nothing had been proved and doubted it much could be proved beyond question, but they agreed that GQ had been an "added factor" which could have caused the 1953 season to net differently than previous seasons.

Seven public health, polio, and epidemiology experts are studying GQ's part in the 1953 polio season under the chairmanship of Dr. Alexander D. Langmuir of the U. S. Public Health Service. They are expected to publish a report next month.

This year's polio season started much like last year's record epidemic. The number of cases approximately paralleled last year's number on a week-by-week basis until toward the end of June. It looked then as though 1953 would prove at least as severe as 1952.

But in the first week of July, 1953's "rising curve" began to tilt away from the vertical and toward the horizontal. Within a few weeks it was falling considerably short of new case totals of corresponding weeks last year. Now it is apparent 1953 will be only the third "worst" polio year, far short of last year and 1949, and short, even, of the five-year average.

COTTON PICKIN' TIME

Seed Storage Important to Growers

Storage of beans, peas and corn is always difficult and with the increased practice of seed saving and food storage in home gardens, the protection of beans, peas and corn seed from insects becomes doubly important, says County Agent Oliver L. Adams.

The standard method of protection is to fumigate the seed with carbon disulfide (high-lift) in a light container. One fluid ounce is enough for a cubic foot or a 50-gallon barrel. For smaller amounts, one teaspoonful is enough for an 8-gallon container.

Fumigation should continue for 48 hours at a temperature of 70 degrees or higher. Seed for planting seed need not be aired, but for use as food, it should be aired if not ventilated at the end of 48 hours.

A hard stand of calcium arsenate from 1:1 a convenient container in which to store and fumigate seed. For small lots, fruit jars might be used. In any case, the container must be absolutely gas-tight. Since carbon disulfide is highly inflammable, the fumigation chamber should be away from all buildings. For seed which is not to be eaten, a 5 per cent DDT dust can be used for control of weevils. Enough dust should be used to give a light coating around each seed.

Price of Fame Is Terrible — the Common Man Has More Fun Than the Fellow on a Pedestal

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Would you like to be world famous, recognized and admired wherever you went?

The man in the street affiant would say, "Sure. Why not? Do you think I'm crazy?" But if he thought it over, I don't think he'd want to be famous at all.

For it's a dog's life. It is living on a leash. It is being a public animal. Fame is too often a cage that imprisons the one within it. Just as surely as a lion is held by the bars of a zoo.

I have met or interviewed many famous men and women, and usually have come away feeling rather sorry for them. Their renown is a heavy and burdensome chain, and restricts their freedom. Whatever power they gain from fame often is hardly worth the simple pleasures they lose.

The truth is that the man in the street has more real fun and freedom than the man on the pedestal.

The price of those who stand upon a public peak of prominence is to be stared at wherever they go, bowed to, endlessly admired. The ordinary man certainly feels he could use a little more appreciation from those around him—particularly his wife, his other boss, his children, the neighbors and a few traffic cops. When he pays his taxes, he may even think the least his Uncle Sam could do in return is mail him a "thank you" note.

But otherwise, his appetite for a clasp is actually pretty limited. The fame he wisely daydreams of would be his dearest enemy. And in his heart he knows it. To win achievement or recognition in one's field is one thing. But to be widely famous is another thing.

To most people fame would be a nuisance and a bore. It would be frightening and kill them young. For every man likes to feel he is his own master. But when you are famous you are the uneasy prisoner of everybody.

You become public property, whether you like it or not. Some famous folk revolt against being pawed by the people, and their reward is sometime to be sneered at as "gettin' too big for his britches."

But they have a right to be themselves. It is said that even the gentle Gen. Robert E. Lee disliked having people touch him or walk closely behind him. An earlier general, Cinquatus, went back to his plow after saving Rome. Probably the other generals and politicians called him a show-off, but was he? Or is Greta Garbo insincere when, after a tremendous career, she insists now on the right to be alone?

Recently a tall, still youthful-looking man of middle age was looking at a tray of gadgets in a five-and-ten-cent store.

"Doesn't he look familiar?" one salesgirl asked another.

"Like who?"

"Well, a little like Lindbergh," she said. "Maybe around the eyes and mouth. But can you imagine Lindbergh being in here?"

Both girls laughed at the idea. A moment later Charles A. Lindbergh paid for his purchases, smiled shyly and walked out. No man in history ever won a greater fame overnight than he did—few would think that kind of fame less, or paid a more terrible price for it.

Today Lindbergh is happier than he has been in more than a quarter of a century because, as he told a friend, "Now I can go into a dime store and nobody knows me." It is one of the greatest priv-

Further U. S. Job Cutting Indicated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Philip Young of the Civil Service Commission says the government intends to trim its payroll by 100,000 more jobs, but actually fire less than half that number of persons.

The reduction, to be made by June 30, will be accomplished for the most part by not filling vacancies that come up in the normal turnover of personnel, Young said.

In central south Florida flood waters threatened 200,000 acres of farm and cattle land.

A dozen families were forced to leave their homes after a four-block area in North Dade County near Miami was flooded.

He spoke last night to the Washington Society for Personnel Administration.

Ricks Undergoes Operation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Earl T. Ricks, head of the Air National Guard, was reported today to be recovering at Walter Reed Hospital from a recent operation for removal of a malignant growth.

An aide said Ricks, whose home is in Hot Springs, Ark., was successfully operated on in July. He recently returned to the hospital for a final checkup and tests of a new cancer treatment for which he volunteered.

The aide said that as far as physicians can determine, Ricks now is all right and will leave the hospital in the near future.

Ricks was named head of the Air National Guard in October, 1950, for a 4-year term.

Ricks is a former mayor of Hot Springs and a former Arkansas adjutant general.

Mother Dies But Baby Is Saved

CLEVELAND (AP) — Doctors at City Hospital here delivered a baby by cesarean section a minute after the mother died of polio, it was reported today.

Mrs. Barbara J. Walley, 23, of Romulus, Mich., came here two weeks ago to be with her parents when her second child was born. She was stricken with polio Saturday and placed in an iron lung. Yesterday she died, but waiting doctors quickly delivered a six-pound baby boy, according to Dr. Jean Crum, the hospital's medical director.

"It was very unusual," he said, "and apparently successful. The child seems to be doing fine."

Bullet Removed From Child's Brain

OXFORD, England (AP) — Hospital attaches said today the condition of Ginevra Cohen, 11, Italian girl flown here from Cairo, Egypt, was satisfactory after surgeons removed a bullet from her brain.

The child was struck on the head by a bullet while driving with her father through an Egyptian army maneuver site near Alexandria last week. When the necessary operation appeared too difficult to be undertaken with equipment available in Egypt, she was flown to England. Dr. J. B. Pomeroy, noted British brain specialist, performed the operation at Radcliffe Infirmary here yesterday.

A hospital spokesman said "her condition is very satisfactory — there is every hope of a successful result."

Lost Ship With Repatriates Arrive

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The ninth and last transport bringing repatriated Americans home from prisoners of war camps in Korea arrived today (1:14 p.m. EST).

The Gen. R. L. Howe is bringing 213 veterans, of whom 213 are soldiers, 51 airmen, 21 Marines and 21 sailors.

New word for GETAWAY

"TT" DYNAFLOW!

The 1953 Buick Super Riviera. Wire wheel covers, illustrated, optional at extra cost.

We'll get right to the point.

The comments we've been getting from new Buick owners about the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow are terrific.

And the reason is—this fully automatic transmission is, in itself, terrific.

It has a new, firm, solid "take-hold"—gives you instant getaway response.

It has new quiet—you can barely hear the acceleration build-up.

It has unique and utter simplicity of operation. You just move your Selector into Drive range, press the pedal, and go. That's all.

But the sweetest thing of all about TT Dynaflow is its smoothness.

You move from standstill to your legal speed in one progressive build-up of power delivery.

You feel a constant "carry" of forward motion, unbroken in any way—because here no gearshifting takes place, either manually or automatically.

Even your deceleration is infinitely smooth and gradual, with the cushioned control of flowing oil slowing down.

Wouldn't you like to sample this wonderful new getaway and pleasant quiet and immaculate smoothness?

We'll be glad to seat you at the wheel of a new 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow—and let the thrills come where they may. Drop in soon, won't you?
